"If there is a word that described Annie it would have to be 'complete'. She had every wonderful quality about her and an aura that made everyone feel special. She could walk by you with a quick hello and a bubbly smile, and it would just make your day. Annie wasn't afraid to tackle new tasks or help the club in anyway. Annie was a small package of radiance and energy."

Judy Murphy

Annie was a teacher by trade and by all account was a favourite to many of her students. She just loved kids and looked forward to having her own family. Annie was passionate about her sport and life. Annie's life was tragically taken too early on a trip to Borneo where she was murdered by intruders in her hotel room.
